WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 7.—(A)—
Governor Alf M. Landon coupled a plea for a "strong will for peace" in America today with an assertion that "we can do much by intelligent legislation to lessen the danger" of war.

He spoke to veterans assembled in the Kansas State American Legion convention, calling for tolerance of race and creeds and unity in the ranks of workers so that "organized labor may continue its part in the struggle for higher living standards."

In a light tan summer suit blinking occasionally from the glare of floodlights, the presidential nominee read his Labor Day address in slow, deliberate tones to a throng of Legionnaires and Kansans who gathered in the high-ceilinged forum.

Landon's Address Is Reported in Full

WICHITA, Kas., Sept. 7.-(AP)-The text of Governor Alf M. Landon's address at the state convention

This is the last time I will have the pleasure of greeting the annual convention of the American Legion of Kansas as governor of the state. For four years I have enjoyed the privilege of meeting with you and visiting with you in that capacity.
Our American Legion convention today is one of fellowship. We here observe that section of the preamble to the Legion constitution that calls upon us to "preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the great war." We must not forget the incidents and memories of training camps or battlefields that bind us together. They are precious to us all In them we regain the spirit of that supreme adventure in our country's service. That adventure did not end on November 11, 1918. Our fellowship in vember 11, 1918. Our fellowship in past memories is fine. But it involves a fellowship in present and future duties. We shall not get the value out of our meetings if we let these

FOREMOST IN AMERICA

Let me remind you of them.
First is the duty of tolerance. It ought not to be necessary to stress tolerance in America. We have a great tradition of tolerance growing out of the fundamentals of our past Our forbears came of different stocks

Men of every nation, every clime united in building this country. Protestants, Catholics, Jews worked here side by side, good neighbors.

No other nation has such a backquieting evidence of attempts to stir up racial antagonism. This is due in part, I suppose, to the influence of the persecuting spirit that has broken out in certain regions in Europe. In part it may be due to the depression that has strained our nerves. In part, I suspect, it is due to what we call "pure orneriness" of which we all have a share.

This fomenting of racial feeling is not serious as yet. It would be tragic if it should become serious. The American Legion is a cross-section of America. It is made up of men of all stocks and creeds. Bu however different our original stock may have been, the great war taught us to like and respect each other, as ELECTION ON MERIT good soldiers and good Americans.
WELFARE OF NATION

LEGION'S SPECIAL CONCERN We are, therefore, in a position and we have the responsibility to oppose we have the responsibility to oppose every move to capitalize intolerance, to break up the country into hostile groups. Also, we must insist upon the preservation and promotion of American freedom, and above all the freedom of expression. So long as we have freedom of expression and a free exchange of ideas many of our most services, problems will applied to the freedom of the deficiencies of my opponent," Paul S. Secondly, I want to emphasize the campaigning." Secondly, I want to emphasize the duty of citizenship—citzenship in its broadest sense. Traveling about Kan sas I get a lot of satisfaction when I find men of the Legion taking influential positions in the farming communities, in the trades unions, in the chambers of commerce, in other companizations that help our common communities in the gift of the voters. organizations that help our common portant posts in the gift of the voters life. We went into the army to save American. The men who make up the American Legion made the safety and welfare of the nation a matter for each man's own personal concern.

And now that we are back in civilian life we must continue to make the welfare and safety of the nation our special concern.

But this goal cannot be attailed by individual effort alone. Achievement in this instance must come from unity, just as success in the World War came by united action.

"There will be, of course, a number of improvements made in the machine which will make it still more efficient. I would estimate that the machine picked and delivered in the bag approximately 85 per cent of the open cotton, the remainder being left on the plants and on the ground. It seems to me that it would be possible to increase the percentage of cotton delivered to the bag."

Just how practical the machine is, Westbrook pointed out, can not be determined until the United States Ginning Laboratories make ginning

BRUNSWICK AUDIENCE

Athens Judge Addresses Labor Day Group at Seaside City.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Sept. 7 .- (A)-Judge Blanton Fortson declared today the outstanding gubernatorial campaign issue was whether Georgia Democrats "want to elect a governor who will serve them or a governor who will serve the interests who have in the past dominated our state."

"Wednesday's election," the Athens jurist told a Labor Day audience, will very largely determine whether we shall have good or bad government for the next two years."

for the next two years."

Fortson asserted that if either "Redwine or Rivers is elected... the forces that control them will remain in power."

"They would not spend thousands of dollars to elect either Redwine or Rivers," he said, "if they were not certain that in either event they would still have control over our state's affairs."

The judge said "Georgia needs a government with a heart."

"If I am elected," he said, "I shall use all the influence of that high office to give our people the kind of government that places the needs of the average person above the selfish aims of powerful minorities."

Atlanta headquarters of the candidate issued a statement saying it noted "a growing tide of popular support," for him.

"Various reasons are assigned for Judge Fortson's impressive gain in popular support," the statement said, "not the least among them being the fact, now definitely appreciated by all voters, that Judge Fortson's candidacy offers them the only opportunity of registering their disapproval of the Talmadge dictatorship and of the political slatemakers and para-sites who foisted Talmadge on Geor-gia."

141 COUNTIES WON, SAYS ROYAL MANN

Candidate Closes Campaign After Visits to Every Section of State.

Royal K. Mann, candidate for membership on the prison commission, yes-terday gave out the following state-

"I have completed by personal visits n tour of the entire state, and my numerous active friends have completed a survey of every county. We have refrained from making exaggerated and boastful claims and have waited until by the full and accurate information now in our headquarters files we are able to speak with confidence and are able to speak with confidence and recurracy. From these personal visits and from information gathered by my friends in all the counties, I have no doubt of my overwhelming election on Wednesday. My files show that I am certain to carry 141 counties with a strong probability of carrying more. My changes in the remaining counties. My chances in the remaining counties are at least even but my information as to these is not full enough for me to place them with accuracy.

me to place them with accuracy.

"When I entered the race I did so because of my desire to serve and because of my experience in the work of the prison commission where I had been employed for four years. I am fully acquainted with the duties of the office, not by talking to some one about them, but by actually performing them, and when I am elected on Wednesday I shall by reason of this Wednesday, I shall, by reason of this experience in the office of the prison commission, be able to enter upon my daties fully prepared to carry my own burdens and responsibilities."

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

MORALE WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The army generals, who look on the Spanish civil war solely as another technical military problem, are figuring the Rebels will win. They have thought for some days now it would be only a question of time until the government forces.

American tourists in London, annoyed at the inconveniences of archaic British housing conditions.

Their theory has been that victory would be won by the side able to mass the largest force of regularly trained troops, not those rawest recruits you have seen fumbling with guns for the movie newsreels.

In the early days of the revolution, there was some doubt about the allegiance of the enlisted personnel of the Spanish army. The officers were mostly Rebel sympathizers, but there was a grave question how long they could continue to rely on their men. Recent Rebel victories a city of skyscrapers, says a promi-

And nobody could government forces, one by one, in the north and pinch off Madrid in a the United States. This conservatism

Note-State Department diplomatic reports confirm the impression of instability at Madrid. For fully a week authorities have been studying the possibilities of governmental collapse.

ORDERLINESS President Roosevelt has been working harder lately than since those early New Deal days of the banking crisis. For two days before he left on his trip he was in almost continuous conferences in preparation of his semi-annual budget state- American architectural magazines, says ment. The train ride afforded him little opportunity for rest, and involved this man. He believes the British longer and harder hours than the usual campaign trips, in which the candidates are generally protected as much as possible from the strain.

Then, the night he returned, he chose to make a radio speech.

Those who have followed the President's method closely have noted he has developed a personal system which has enabled him to protect himself increasingly from the wear and tear of office. For one thing, he has an ability to concentrate on one subject at a time and a greater ability to lay the subject aside when he is through with it. In this way his mind has become a very orderly filing cabinet.

Furthermore, train riding and traveling do not tire him as much as the average person. The motto of the White House correspondents has 60-story buildings, just as in New the Roosevelt entourage and see the world," but none of the newsmen is able to stand the trip as well as he does.

LOOKING AHEAD More than the mere saving of old ships was United States and Japan on destroyers and submarines. It was really the so far. first technical step toward accelerated naval building, all around, if indeed it does not signal the start of a direct race.

Old ships are not much good for combat purposes. Off-hand, it may seem to be rather foolish to keep them in service, and to man them. None of the governments involved chose to explain why it is not, but all the admirals know. For one thing, if you are planning to have more and more ships in a year or so, you must have an enlarged trained personnel to man them. Old ships are second best to new ones for that purpose. Another good reason is that these ships can be used for political trading purposes. The admirals can eventually trade them in to conmodern replacements, or they could be used as excellent bartering material if there ever is another naval disarmament conference.

Foresight does not, however, explain the peculiar advantage which Japan took from the old ship deal. What happened

The London naval treaty gave the United States and Britain 150,000 tons of destroyers and Japan 105,000, as of December 31, 1936. gave all three powers equal tonnage in submarines (52,700) as of the same date. All tonnage beyond those figures was to be scrapped. However, Britain did not want to scrap her old destroyers and invoked the escalator clause of the treaty. She wanted to keep 40,000 ons of over-age destroyers, and she so announced. The United States answered she would do likewise.

But Japan elected to hold on to her old subs as well as her detroyers, keeping 15,000 tons of over-age subs and 11,000 of old destroyers. The effect was to give her superiority in submarines. In other words, she changed the treaty ratio.

What all this complicated diplomatic maneuvering merely means is that no one is going to scrap anything he has any use for.

No one believes anything will come of Russia's latest sharp warning to Japan regarding border incidents on the Manchukuo frontier. It was merely a bookeeping notice to keep the record straight as far as Russo-Japanese relations are concerned.

The inside fact is the Reds are not ready for trouble. With Hitler annoying them at the front door, they are in no position to do anything about the back, unless perchance Mr. Hitler some time soon finds his hands filled with his problems in western Europe, in which case Moscow

It Isn't the Parent's Fault If a Disobedient Child Gets Burned

BY ROBERT QUILLEN.

Some years ago a youth named Joe tortured and killed an old man who resisted robbery. The brutality of the crime and the age of the victim made Joe's conviction certain, but his relatives did their utmost to save him. When every legal trick had failed, they appealed to the

The governor had the power to save Joe's life, but he refused to interfere. The power to pardon, he explained, was given to him to correct accidental injustices, not to nullify the law and prevent the execution of justice.

Thus he won the undying hatred of Joe's people. The way they figured it, the governor alone was responsible for Joe's unhappy end. Joe didn't bring it on himself, and the courts were not to blame, for

For the seventh time in the past ten years, long distance rates have again been voluntarily reduced.

Effective September 1, the rates for both person-to-person and station-to-station interstate long distance calls were reduced to points 235 miles or more distant. The amount of the saving on calls ranges from five cents to $1.50 depending upon the distance.

Also on inter-state person-to-person calls the charges for overtime after six minutes of conversation are reduced. (Overtime charges begin after three minutes conversation.)

WINNING five typing championships out of five classes, taking all fifteen prize awards, Underwood made a clean sweep of the International Typewriting Contest at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, on Wednesday, September 2nd. Speeding through totally unfamiliar copy that was chock-full of typing hurdles, Hossfield's score at the finish was six words per minute better than that of the nearest competitive machine. Never before has any typewriter demonstrated such complete mastery of an international contest. Never has any typewriter, not even the Underwood, earned a better right to its title, "The Machine of Champions". Underwood not only won the World's title, but the Canadian Professional, Amateur, School Novice and the School Open Championships. Face this fact squarely: In twenty-seven years of competition, twenty-six World's Typing Cham-

Tea Will Honor First President of Shakespeare Club Returns Here for Residence

By Sally Forth.

WITH MRS. HENRY C. HUDGINS return here for residence the city's pages of history turn back to the time when this beloved citizen organized Atlanta's first Shakespeare Club and served as its first president. It was under her leadership that a group of cultural-minded women met each week to study the works of the renowned Shakespeare. Throughout the years the club has continued its study, although Mrs. Hudgins has made her home for the past 15 years in Markette. Marietta.

During the past four years she served as leader of the Anne-Hudgins Shakespeare Club class in Marietta, which she organized and which bears her name. Before her marriage Mrs. Hudgins was Miss Anne Georgia Parker, whose parents were prominent leaders in Atlanta's early development.

The former Miss Parker spent her girlhood here where she was born, and where, after her marriage to the late Mr. Hudgins, she continued to live until 1921. She is the mother of Mrs. Alfredo Barili, of this city; Mrs. Leon Mc-Kenzie Blair, of Marietta; Mrs. Arthur Crowe, of Smyrna, and John S. Hudgins, formerly of Memphis, but who returned recently to Atlanta for residence and with whom Mrs. Hudgins is making her home.

In addition to being a Shake-sperean student, Mrs. Hudgins is a lover of good poetry. Her bookshelves contain many volumes of celebrated poems, and Mrs. Hudgins is an exceptionally gifted poet. She wrote a number of poems that have received flattering comment. In the recent volumes of "Lanier Memorial Poems of Trees," compiled by Dr. W. F. Melton, several of Mrs. Hudgins' poems appear, and Atlanta is proud to again claim this native daughter as a citizen.

A CCORDING to age-old pre-diction, Laura Lee Pattillo will be the next bride in the group who attended the former Ernestine Starbuck when she be-came Mrs. Charles Homer Clark last Saturday afternoon. Ernestine tossed her bouquet in the direction of her bridesmaids it was Laura Lee's quick hands that grasped it. Since time immemorial it has been said the maid who catches the bride's bouquet will be the next to tread the orange blossom path.

It remains to be seen however whether Laura Lee marches to Lohengrin's strains first or whether Dorothy Coates will be next to don a bridal veil. For when Ernestine's wedding cake was cut Dorothy found the ring in her slice. Sally has observed that seldom does the custom ever fail for the one who cuts this symbol to be the next bride. With hosts of friends Sally awaits eagerly to see which of the two belles will be first to join the married ranks.

Ernestine made as lovely bride as it has ever been Sally's good fortune to gaze upon. Arrayed in white satin and lace Ernestine selected to wear "as something old," her sister's exquisite lace and tulle veil, which the former Frances Starbuck wore when she became Mrs. Charles Sloan Patton over a year ago. A tiny blue satin bow pinned under her long satin train served as the "something blue" worn by last Satur-day's bride. The "something borrowed" worn by Frances was a handsome antique gold cross loaned the bride by her maid-ofhonor, Lisbe Duggan, of Pitts-burg. The exquisite lace handkerchief carried by Frances was a gift to her from Mrs. Grady Poole, who purchased the dainty handmade kerchief this summer in Canada where she and Dr. Poole spent several weeks.

E HAD just met a most at-He man just metal tractive young lady, and was exceptionally anxious to make a favorable impression upon "lademoiselle,' so he brought to the rescue all the quaint and inter-esting anecdotes that he could remember. Finally, as one thing led to another, they happened upon the subject of crashing parties, weddings, etc. The young lady told of her minor misdeeds along that line, and soon the boy confessed that he had crashed one debut party last fall.

He chuckled to himself at the thought. "Why, I even went down the receiving line," he announced, "and they were so stupid they didn't know the difference." The young lady laughed merrily. "I can't imagine anybody being so dumb," she chortled. "It was the best party I was never invited to," he bragged, and proudly related the time and place. "Good heavens!" was the startled exclamation, "that was my party!"

"What is the matter with your appetite tonight?" Claire asked in a confidential fashion. "Have you been eating between meals?"

"Yeah."

"You shouldn't. What was it?"

"Pie."

"Of all things!"

"Dumb, wasn't it?"

"After what seemed an interminable meal, Deeds loitered a few moments in the lobby, glancing over a newspaper that lay on the desk and watching furtively for Joan to put in her appearance. When there was no sign of her, he repaired to the porch and sought a chair in the farthest corner to await developments.

To his disappointment, the development took the form of the Rev. Mr. Beekham who dropped into the next vacant seat with the mild information that it had been a very pleasant day, he thought. Deeds admitted, but without any suggestion of reproof.

II—Early Birds.

Seventy-five years ago, in a stone quarry of Bavaria, men made a great discovery. They found remains of a bird never known before—some of the bones, and imprints of certain feathers. In 1872, another and better skeleton of the bird was taken from the same quarry.

The wings of the ancient bird were very much like those which we see about us, except that there were claws at the bend of each wing. It is supposed that the claws helped in climbing trees, cliffs, or other objects. Such claws do not exist on the wings of most modern birds, but the young "Hoatziu." a bird of South America. has two claws on each wing, and uses them for climbing. The claws drop off the wings before the birds grow to full size.

Study of the rock where the bones were found showed that it dated far back in time, to what is known as the Jurassic period. The birds, it seems, fell into a pool and settled to the bottom, where their bodies were covered by fine mud. Later the mud bardened into rock, and made a casing around the remains of the birds.

Off the wings before the birds grow to full size.

The foot-bones of Ancient Wing show us that its feet were fitted for perching and for walking. The power of flight may not have been very great. Whether the bird was able to sing, we can only guess. Very likely it made sounds of some kind.

The annual linen shower for the Georgia Baptist Orphans' Home, given by the W. M. U. of the Atlanta Association, will be held on September 25, at 3 o clock at the home.

This shower is an annual W. M. U. event, and few projects sponsored by the union meet with such whole-hearted response. Last year the contributions totaled more than $6,000 Generosity in giving is even more necessary this year than last because of the constant increase in the price of merchandise. With 300 single beds to be furnished with linen, allowing for a change, 1,200 sheets, 600 pillow-cases and 600 spreads are required. In addition to bed linen there are dresser scarfs, towels, napkins and tablecloths to be provided. After the needed linens are bought, should a sum remain in the shower fund, bolts of cotton prints will be purchased for dresses for the girls and blouses for the boys. Sometimes dishes have to be replenished and when winter comes, thick warm sweaters are needed for the boys. # Crackers Divide Pair; Need One Victory To Clinch Flag

Those Crackers of ours are a bit selfish, at that, There isn't any need carrying a sense of rivalry too far. Just because Nashville hasn't seen a pennant since 1916 those Crackers of ours apparently believe Nashville shouldn't even see another team win one there.

So they will move on down to New Orleans to cinch

It was there they won the pennant last season. So I think I will go along to see the job done. They did it very effectively last year. I can shut my eyes and see Bobby Durham out there yet—getting into more trouble than a man in politics for the first time. But pitching out of the tight spots with a lot of skill.

The Crackers could lose this pennant. The mathematical chance is there. But they can hardly drop the big chance. The season ends next Sunday. It should be won, the 1936 pennant, at New Orleans.

But the situation is a bit alarming. It was pointed out in this palladium of the common weal not so long ago that, while the pennant appeared safe enough, the playoff series will not be so easy.

The pitching staff is in a weakened condition and when the ay-off series begins, the Cracker pitchers will be arm and basehall weary. However, Emil Leonard accompained our lads to even dozen. Isabel and Bokina did New Orleans, and will pitch if necessary. That is comforting.

Still, the pennant is the big objective. The contest with the Texas league winner is definitely secondary. The Southern league pennant is the objective of the 154-game schedule in which the Crackers have led since the opening day of play.

The Crackers didn't want to permit the Nashville people, who haven't seen a pennant in 20 years, to witness the winwho haven't seen a pennant in 20 years, to witness the win-ning of one. It may have been best at that. The shock would have been a great one. have been a great one.

LARRY GILBERT'S FIGHT.

Nothing has been more thrilling than the last-ditch rally by the Pelicans under Larry Gilbert.

The Pelicans will be around when the play-off is staged. And they may be in third place. The Crackers will be meeting the fourth-place team while the second team engages the third

The Crackers will meet either Birmingham or New Orleans. And, in a five-game series, the issue will be in doubt. Especially if the Cracker pitching staff is as crippled as it is this week.

Play will begin next week, probably a week from today. And Atlanta will be seriously handicapped as to pitchers. This New Orleans club, apparently hopelessly out of it a month ago, may be the team to beat. It's on the way up.

THE NEW ORLEANS EATING.

Gilbert is doing his usual good job.

The New Orleans eating should be pleasant. From a perusal of the esteemed Times-Picayune, I see that Mr. William Mc-Gregor Keefe has been on an eating tour of southern Louisiana.

Mr. Keefe should have some good ideas on food. The last time I broke bread with Mr. Keefe he produced such a multitude of dishes which simply had to be eaten; the result was a sad one. I tossed all that evening on a Pullman pillow and dreamed that a great war was on, and-well, never mind. It's dangerous to tell one's dreams these days.

The steak with Ceps and Bordelaise sauce; the pompano papier; the trout with sauce majerie; the oysters Rockefeller, and the crawfish gumbo should be about right now. I really must go see Mr. Eddie Moore and his brave lads win this pen-

He was on first one day, with Cantillion umpiring bases. The batter hit a long, long one to center. The runner took one look. It seemed obvious the center fielder couldn't catch it. He rounded second.

Cantillion was running with him. "Run, run," he shouted. The runner sped on to third and rounded it with Cantillion

As he neared the plate, Cantillion yelled, "Slide!

The man hit the dust and Cantillion yelled, "You're "Out." said the enraged runner, leaping up.

"Yeah," said Cantillion, "the center fielder caught the ball." They never spoke again.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.. Sept. 7.—(P)—The Georgia Florida league Tallahassee Capitals today held a 2-0 game score over the Reds of Cordele in the championship play-off series.

The teams rested today preparatory to going to Cordele tomorrow for the first of two night games.

Errors and free passes aided the Capitals, first half winners, in taking yesterday's contest, 5-1. Three Red pitchers yielded only six hits, but gave up nine free passes. Faulty handling of the ball twice was expensive to the Reds.

BOBBY DURHAM ON FOUR BLOWS

Alex Hooks Bats Well as Atlanta Wins, 4-1, Loses, 12-5.

SULPHUR DELL, NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 7 .- Atlanta virtually won its second straight Southern associa tion pennant here today when Robby Durham limited the Vols to four hits to win the Labor Day nightcap, 4-2, after the Crackers had dropped the first game; 12-5. One more win or a Vol loss will give Atlanta the title. Tonight the Mooremen head for New Orleans 7 1-2 games in front with only eight games left to play.

Nashville has seven more contests.

The Vols could finish two percentage points on top by winning all their games while Atlanta was losing its eight.

By winning the opener, Nashville likewise sewed up second place, but has no chance to catch the Crackers.

Two Vol rookies, Padgett and Thornton, hurled the nightcap and were peppered for an even dozen hits as Atlanta placed men on bases in all but one round. The Crackers buncaed their hits in clusters of three, four and three, for the quartet of tallies.

Durham never was in serious danger as he kept the hits widely scatered. Two walks coming in the third frame aided Nashville in scoring its pair of runs.

A wild third inning in which young Oliver Spikes was pounded for eight hits and eight runs enabled the Vols to grab the opener. Bill Schmidt pitched the last five rounds, giving up four runs in the 7th on five hits, including a homer by Wasdell.

Atlanta drove Hilcher from the mound in the 7th, but for the third time in the series found the offerings of Ray Starr impossible to solve. He Alex Hooks had a field day at bat with 5 hits and 4 runs scored.

Poco Taitt's twentieth homer in the first game gave him the league lead over Earl Webb, of Knoxville, who

Joe Dwyer's three hits in the six times a bat in the two games again boosted his chances of holding the top batting rung against all comers

New York Sluggers Beat Own Home-Run Record With 162.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—(R)—
The New York Giants strengthened their hold on the National league lead to five games today as they beat the Phillies twice in a double-header, 6 to 2 and 14 to 11. Mel Ott hit a homer in each of the games to run his total for the season to 30 while Dick Bartell got one in the second contest.

The Pirates blasted four St. Louin pitchers for 18 hits and defeated the Cards, 14 to 1, in the second game of a double-header after winning the opener, 4 to 1. Dizzy Dean was beat en in the first game.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(P)—Football stars of the past and present will shoot under the glaring arc lights tomorrow night at historic Polo Grounds, where Bernie Biermna's college aces of 1935 match speed, brawn and gridiron trickery against the New York gridiron Giants.

The game, sponsored by the New York gridiron Giants.

The game, sponsored by the New York Herald Tribune for the benefit of that newspaper's fresh-air fund, may attract a crowd of 50,000 spectators and help settle, in a measure, the question as to the superiority of professional and college football.

Not until the best college team meets the best pro team can any question of gridiron superiority be answered to the satisfaction of all parties and fans, but the All-Star games, originated three years ago by Sports Editor Arch Ward, of the Chicago Tribune, has been the next best proving ground.

Detroit Lions, last year's pro champs, 7-all at Soldier Field.

Because of their "moral victory" over the Lions, the All-Stars rated as slight favorites over the Giants, who lost their protitle to the Lions last fall. Not only has the morale of the ex-collegians been lifted by their showing against the potentially stronger Lions, but they gained valuable experience in competing against the powerhouse rushes of the professionals. Bierman, assisted by Coaches Elmer Layden, of Notre Dame; Lou Little, of Columbia, and Bo McMillin, of Indiana, also has a free hand in choosing his starting lineup. ALBANY, N. Y., Sunday .- This morning I had a chat with the President over the telephone on his return from his trip and he says that they are all very well, only a little sleepy, and that they hope to remedy this before they leave again on Tuesday.

There are moments when I hate the telephone because it breaks in on one so frequently when one does not wish to be interrupted. But there are other times when it is a joy. One does not have to wait for news one would like to hear, but can actually talk and get all the information which one can never acquire except by the tone of a person's Saturday Mrs. Scheider and I began an annual vacation period. Some time before the autumn activities really begin I usually go away for two ing out a color scheme of yellow and weeks, generally on a camping trip with some friends who are pretty white well tired out by this time. As my uncle, Theodore Roosevelt, used to say, there are only certain people who camp out well. Somehow or other that mode of living brings out many things which in the ordinary daily routine may never come out.

This year, however, two of our campers are far away and one of the others has built a new house and urged us to come and help with the settling. One of the things we like to do best is to find the right furniture and put it in the right place, hang pictures or curtains, and move things all around until we feel that we want to sit down and stay move things all around until we feel that we want to sit down and stay there.

I always wish that I had some real training as an interior decorator, for I know of nothing which is more fun. Nevertheless, I apparently can make things livable. A room must come to life and look as though

There is something similar, however, between moving into a new house and camping out. At least one has play for one's ingenuity. The first night that Mrs. Scheider and I went to get supper we discovered that the only cooking utensils that had arrived were our stainless steel frying pan and griddle.

We found that what we supposed was a coffee percolator was only the kind of a utensil which keeps coffee warm. It is the first time in ur experience that we have made coffee in a frying pan, because one of the things you never forget on a camping trip is a coffee pot. This is used for almost everything.

To the VOTERS of FULTON COUNTY

I have conducted my race for re-election to State Senate from the 35th District in the same manner as I have all other cam-paigns in the past—without dealing in personalities or mud sling-

FULTON COUNTY should have representation in the next sesion of the State Senate. At the last session a law was passed giving to Fulton County a separate Senatorial District, but this law was vetoed by the Governor. I pledge to the people of Fulton County I will again pass such a law. Both of my opponents live outside of Fulton County.

I trust my record in public office as Alderman in City Council of Atlanta for seven years and as a member of the State Senate for the past two years will entitle me to your vote for re-election to State Senate tomorrow, September 9th. I pledge to you a conof the same honest and efficient service that I have endeavored to render in the past.

Will personally appreciate your voting for me in the election Vednesday for State Senate from the 35th District which includes FULTON COUNTY.

WHAT A FULTON COUNTY JURY FOUND ABOUT MCRAE

In the last campaign for Solicitor General, John Boykin said that William G. McRae-when a Justice of the Peace in Florida—had taken a bribe of $3,000 to bind a man over as part of a blackmail plot.

After the election McRae sued John Boykin for libel for making this statement.

John Boykin's defense was that he said it, and that it was

He counter-claimed against McRae for what McRae had said about him. The case, was tried for three weeks before a jury of this County.

The jury found for John Boykin against McRae, the sum

fice and being defeated three times.

No wonder that after this bribe had been exposed here he was defeated for Solicitor General.

No wonder after this verdict he was defeated for the legislature, and again defeated for the City Council.

His record is exposed here and he can no more be elected here than he could in Florida.

MARKET INFORMATION

Speculation in commodities differs widely from security speculation in the matter of so-called "market information" Basic statistics on commodities are published by Government Bureaus at regular intervals, and are carried in the daily press. Information vitally affecting commodity prices is therefore quickly available to all. (Those who have confined their commitments exclusively to securities might well inquire into the commodity service available through this office which includes a consolidation of such information.

Friendly Counsel By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submit-ted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution. Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield:

I have been in love with a girl for two years, the only girl I have ever wanted to make my wife. There is nothing I wouldn't do to make her happy but I am uncertain about the future. At times she tells me she hates me and wishes she had never seen me and then she con-tradicts what she says by being affectionate with me. I am afraid she is going to break the engage-ment and I can't give her up. Please tell me what I can do.

You can get a grip on yourself, behave in such a way that your girl respects you. Otherwise you will lose her—or what's worse—marry her and find yourself hog-tied. For mark it down, no woman is a good wife to a man she can trample upon and she can and will trample one that's scared of her. Here's a funny fact but true: she will humiliate a man she loves by telling him she hates him and if takes it, she will actually come to hate him.

Albert Payson Terhune says that a dog can smell fear on a human being and disliking that particular "scent" it will attack anybody that emits it. Pardon the analogy, brother, but a girl doesn't like a fearful fiance either. When she discovers that he is abjectly dependent upon her and is scared to death of losing her, she frequently feels a disgust for him and punishes him to the limit of her power. A little bit independent, he must be if he would have her respect him. "scent" it will attack anybody that have her respect him.

The cure for a female fit-flinging is right in the palm of a man's hand. He needn't hit her either. He has only to move off, tell her he has had enough and that he will not consider her counter proposition until she has definitely decided that she loves him, wants him back and promises good behavior. It may take time to sweat her out. It takes a man to do it. But it can be done. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

What can I do to get myself some dates? Everything tried so far has failed. Everybody is friendly but nobody goes further. Mother wants me to get going and has given several parties hoping to encourage the boys to come back. We are puzzled to know why they don't. I am a good sport why they don't. I am a good sport and not bad looking. What do you PUZZLED.

I suggest that you forget about dates at present and turn your attention to other things. Cultivate your girl acquaintances. Learn to dates at present and turn your attended turn your attended to ward an enterprising spirit.

A TRIBUTE TO HONORABLE COLUMBUS ROBERTS FROM HIS FRIENDS ROBERTS, AN APPRECIATION! LINDER'S DENUNCIATION!

"The Agricultural policies of the Administration at Washington is ruining our Georgia farmers, and financially they are in the worst condition they have been since the Civil War."

He also said, in substance, that he is in favor of the State of Georgia SECEDING from the Union, thereby scrapping the American Flag.

The above is a denunciation of the Roosevelt farm policies as appeared in the Farm Bulletin, edited by Tom Linder, Commissioner of Agriculture.

STRIPES will again be unfurled over the threshold of the office of Commissioner of Agriculture at the Capitol. "Every wave of this Grand Old Flag will symbolize the increasing prosperity of our Georgia farmers, as well as honoring our great President, who, by his wise Agricultural policy, has made possible 13c a pound for our cotton, 25c pound for tobacco, 32% interest on farm mortgages;

"When I am elected September 9th, the STARS and livestock prices doubled, and our farmers have been enriched more than $360,000,000 through payments of Rental, Parity and Subsidy Checks. "WHAT MORE COULD WE EXPECT IN THREE SHORT YEARS? And how grateful a Georgia farmer should feel for a Roosevelt Administration."

An expression from Columbus Roberts.

HONORABLE COLUMBUS ROBERTS As a benefactor to his fellow Georgians thru large cash contributions to Colleges, Churches and various civic organizations of the state, as a real DIRT FARMER, as an EXPERIENCED DAIRYMAN, as PRESIDENT OF THE GEORGIA MILK PRODUCERS' CONFEDERATION, as a SUCCESSFUL AND OUTSTANDING BUSINESS MAN and, above all, a loyal Democrat who will co-operate with the President, we believe Columbus Roberts is pre-eminently qualified to make Georgia the most efficient and the best Commissioner of Agriculture the State ever had.

Seven Vital Question Answered Here are the answers to the most frequently-asked questions about Credit Insurance. These statements are based on the combined experience of in writing Credit Insurance. 1. Credit Insurance does fill a definite need. 4. Settlements are made promptly. The

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS No. 61

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS No. 62

His mind fell back to his original plan. "Paco!" he exclaimed; "a devil's trap! That will stop him! A strong noose-trap on the dark jungle trail! Tarzan will be going ahead. He is a good tracker. He will find our trail."

Ragland led his men along the trail until they scured the sun. Under his orders Paco began the skilful construction of a trap-a hidden noose and trigger attached by a stout rope to a bent, springy

"Good!" Raglan grinned when his henchman had finished. "But," Paco observed, "when his friends come along, they will cut him down." "No, Paco, you will remain here, and when the trap is sprung, you will be ready to . . . By the way, Paco, is your matchete sharp?"

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Murder was in the heart of Merlin Raglan as his evil eyes rested on the distant Tarzan. An ambush—that might do the trick. No! The jungle-wise ape-man might discover the ambush and turn the tables. Raglan had no desire for such close contact with his pursuer.

A shiver shook the body of the usually daring Paco as Ragland suggested that he remain to kill Tarzan when the devil's noose had clutched him. Even a trap was not sufficient security against this extraordinary creature who had overcome so many obstacles.

"Please, Senor Raglan!" "Do as I say," Raglan scowled; "you will bring me Tarzan's loincloth to show that you have killed him. You know what happens to those who disobey me and run away. Sometimes they live as much as a year; never longer. My arm is long, Paco!"

The villainous half-breed knew well the reputation of Raglan's vengeance. So, when his master and the others disappeared down the trail he squatted in the underbrush, awaiting his victim. And now and then he tested with his thumb the razor edge of his machete. . . .

Meanwhile Tarzan had reorganized his party and embarked again on the river, minus two porters who had fallen victim to the alligators. Soon his jungle-wise eyes discovered the spot where Raglan had landed, thus innocently fulfill-ing the wishes of his foe!

PRESENT DRY LAW GRAND JURY RECORDS PRESENT DRY LAW

Candidate for Attorney General Promises Local Option Bill.

Reuben Garland, candidate for the post of attorney general of Georgia, in an address last night, denounced the Georgia dry law as withholding from the state treasury funds which could be collected from liquor taxes and promised a local option bill if placed office.

"It has rewarded the criminal with oney, power and fine automobiles," "Yes, I want you racketeers.

bootleggers, you gangsters of Georgia to listen now. You have upward of $10,000,000 in your silk-lined pockets tonight that should repose in the treasury of Georgia, to feed the hungry and clothe the naked, to buy school books and pay old age pensions."

Turning to the relations between the state and federal governments, the candidate accused Governor Talmadge of "casting aside every Democratic principle and adopting Republican tac-tics" and depriving the people of Georgia by use of the veto.

"Should any Governor arrogate to himself this unconstitutional power when Reuben Garland is attorney general," he said, "I will bring proceed-ings and have him impeached."

HOW MUCH DOES UNCLE SAM OWE?

The history of the public debt of the United States government, from colonial days down to date presents a picture of the ups and downs of our country under the stress and strain of war, peace, economic disturbances, and industrial development. The question of how large our public debt can grow with safety, of why and how it has grown, or how soon it can be reduced and the budget balanced—all these questions will be debated back and forth in this election campaign. Our Service Bureau at Washington has ready for you a factual bulletin, without partisan bias of any kind, showing the history of the growth of the public debt—exactly when and how it has fluctuated, and how it stands today. "These facts accepted by eminent medical authorities!"

A group of distinguished doctors sought to find out for themselves whether the differences in cigarette manufacture had any relation to coughs due to smoking.

They made tests with Philip Morris Cigarettes, and with cigarettes made by the ordinary method of manufacture.

These tests* proved conclusively that on changing to Philip Morris, coughs due to smoking cleared completely in 3 out of every 4 cases.

Smoke Philip Morris. Amazingly mild yet robustly full-flavored.
